

How Art Heals: Integrating Practice and Research

An Interactive Arts Therapy Symposium with Professor Shaun McNiff

We are delighted to welcome Professor Shaun McNiff to the UK for a unique event.

This one day Interactive Arts Therapy Symposium is an opportunity to be inspired, to reconnect with your creative imagination and to learn first-hand from Shaun McNiff, artist, author, and leading figure in the international development of expressive arts therapy.

This CPD day offers explorations and reflections on topical subjects in art therapy and will include art-making. Themes to be covered:

- Arts integration in therapy
- Ensouling art therapy in challenging times
- Elements of art healing
- Universal access to creative expression
- Creating from the hard places
- Art-based research
